

The most important questions to ask of a biblical passage are Christological. All of the Bible points to Jesus Christ.

Where does this text stand in relation to Christ?

Does this text speak directly of Christ?

How do the implications of the Gospel make these commands possible?

Does this text reveal a type of Christ?

Is this passage predictive of Christ?

How does this passage show us mankind's need for Christ?

How does this passage reveal the nature of the God who provides redemption?

Does the passage reveal a biblical theme that points to Christ?

Does the passage show a promise of God that points us to Christ?

